

Call for Class Proposals

Unwind Getaway is accepting proposals for knitting classes for our annual Unwind Getaway event on April 28-May 1 2023. Unwind is an all inclusive weekend retreat with about 50 participants. All classes are 3 hours long, are held on Saturday and Sunday, and are limited to 15 students or less. Each instructor will teach 3 classes and have one free period so they have an opportunity to relax or explore the area. There is ample opportunity to network with other instructors and mingle with participants. We offer a fair compensation package that includes compensation for mileage for travel, a private room during the event, and meals. At this time we are expecting to require Covid vaccinations to attend Unwind 2023, therefore instructors will also need to meet this requirement.

We ask that you propose at least 3 different classes. The more you propose the more likely you will be chosen. We encourage proposals for both technique based classes, and project based classes. In the past classes with a project that introduces a new technique have been our most popular classes. While the majority of our participants are seasoned knitters, we usually have some beginners, therefore proposals with a mix of difficulty levels is ideal.

If you are interested in submitting a proposal please provide:

Your name
Address
Phone
Email
Short biography

And for each class, provide the following:

Class name
Skill level required, including any prerequisite
Homework if any
Materials fees if any and what will be provided
Supplies to bring
Class description
Photograph that represents class

You may include or reference information available on your website or provide a digital document that includes all of the above.

Please send proposals to:

Knittingnancy50@gmail.com
Or proposals can be mailed to:
Nancy McDonough
